BY THE SECOND PLACE TEAM. New Yorks Win Handily From the Chicagos. Who Are Tied for Fourth Place by the Bostons, the Latter Defeating St. Louis

Cincinnatis Whitewash the Philadelphias. The strong Pittsburg team again defeated the champion Brooklyns yesterday, thereby further reducing the lead of Hanlon's men to 63 points. The New Yorks won handily the Chicagos, who were incidentally tied by the Bostons for fourth place, the Beaneaters easily taking the St. Louis team into camp. The Cincinnatis not only whitewashed the Philadelphias but also took their third straight game from them. The Quakers are only ten points ahead of the Bostons and Chicagoe. The Cincinnatis have approached to within five points of St. Louis. The New Yorks are back in the 400 class. The results:

Pitteburg, 8: Brooklyn, 4

PITTERURG, Aug. 18.—Pitcher McGinnity wned by Pittsburg to-day for the first time this seeson, and he never worked harder to win. He shut out the Pirates on Thursday and Hanlon believed he could do the trick again to-day. McGinnity went in willingly and did not give up till the end, but the Pirates bunted his underhand delivery, swung hard at his overhand shoots and did some fancy base running, all of which gave them a lead that the Champions could not overcome. Far-rell made McGinnity's work hard by throwing poorly. A single, two bases on balls, a steal and a sacrifice and Farrell's bad throw gave two runs in the first. Three singles, another steal and Farrell's second wild throw scored more in the second inning. A double and a single produced one in the fourth and two singles, a triple and Cross's wild throw scored three in the seventh. For five innings not a Champion reached first. In the sixth Daly scored on a base on balls, Farrell's hit and an out at first. Kelley scored in the seventh on his and Cross's singles and an out at first. O'Brien's error, Jones's double and Jennings's single scored two runs in the eighth. The attendance was nearly 8,000, the crowd completely filling the big grandstands and bleachers. The betting was heavy, a stock broker winning $2,400 from a hotel proprietor at odds of 10 to 8. The score:

NEW YORK, 5; CHICAGO, 2.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Although the New Yorks playel miserably their errors did not count, while the Chicagos were beaten in the first inning, Ganzel's error letting the visitors score three runs, a han leap Loftus's men coull not overcome. The New Yorks and Hawley were lucky. Hawley was wil', giving six bases and hitting a man, while his comrates made six atrocious errors, but Chicago could not place a hit where it was most needed, and indeed, could no this Hawley at all. Selbach carried off the fielding honors with three clever catches in the sun field. The score.

ANOTHER FIGHT ON THE DIAMOND. List Increases, but President Young Does Not Exercise His Power.

It is worth while recording the acts of rufflanism in the National League games just to see how ar the magnates will go. In addition to the Doyle-Em-lie fight, the M'Gann-Wol-verton mix-up, the threat by Hawley to throw a brick at a spectator and the dirt-throwing act of Daly the of er day, there comes a slugging match at Cincinnati between Pitcher Philips in the employ of John T. Brush and Centre Fielder Thomas of the Philadelphias. Phillips punched Thomas in the face and was benched by Umpire Emslie. It would seem that some action on the part of President N. E. Young is timely, especially in view of section 28 of the League constitution, which is as foilows:

The President of the League shall have power, upon proper proof, to suspend for an indefinite period and to impose a fine not exceeding $2.00 upon any League manager or player guilty in public of gross misebasyor, including intuiteation, fighting, quarreiling, indecency or other scandalous conduct, whether on or off the playing field during the season, where the same is, in his opinion, calculated to bring disrepute upon the National League or the national game. Such fine can only be remitted by the Board of Directors after a hearing upon appeal duly prosecuted.

President Young may no sibly be willing to enforce this reculation, but as he receives his salary from the men who employ the players, he is compelled to act with diplomacy. But in spite of this fact the public is anxious to know why such a rule as the above extending the salary of why such a rule as the above exists and why the cases of Doyle, McGann, Wolverton, Thomas, Philips, Hawley, Daiy and others are not at least considered. Pres dent Young is entitled to the deepest sympathy.

and went to third on an innerd out; he at-tempted to score on Dixon's fly to Fleming, but was nipped at the plate on the throw. To show his anger he knocked Steelman down. The Hart-ford catcher held the ball and threw it at the Rochester player, striking him in the back; the men came together and were separated by the players of both teams.

Hantington Yacht Club Regatta. Yacht Club, sailed yesterday, had been poorly advertised and the fleet of starters was a very small one, only six boats crossing the line. The Regatta Committee had to make a mixed class in order that all six might participate in the contests. John Green's Windera J., Burdette O'Conner's Gossip, two cabin catboats and Barclay Ward's sloop Murmur were put in one class, and in the 25 foot catboat class were G. M. Heckscher's Dardy, H. H. Gordon's Uarda and A. Bloyd's Ethel. The start was made at noon and the yachts sailed over a six-mile course. The wind was so light that they barely had steerage way and had a hard time making the line. The Windora and Murmur got over at their time, 12.05, but the Gossip was handleapped 30 minutes. The hext class was started at 12:10, and of the three the Dandy fared the worst, being handleapped about forty minutes. The wind about 1 o'clock got ar und to the north and an hour later it came from the southwest. The Windora dritted away from the others and finished a long way in the lead. The Ethel finished at 4:37:40, but the others gave up long before that time. Regatta Committee had to make a mixed laws. At present there is a law in New York State that permits the League to incorporate here, and there is no such law in Massachusetts. Yet there is an element on the committee that persists in the idea of Boston being the "Hub." Very little definite information has been permitted to leak out. A meeting of the Revision Committee was held a few days ago, but the proceedings were not given out. There seems, however, to be an impression among League workers here in New York that politics is being played in favor of a certain worthy officer who has held office for many years, so many that he is thoroughly identified with the rut as a wagon wheel in a quagmire. The question of where to incorporate is an important and perhaps a vital one to the League. It is pointed out by local members that the League headquarters should be in the metropolis of the country, as the C. T. C. of England has its headquarters in London and the T. C. F., has its office in Paris. The argument is that riders from the West, North and South, when travelling, as a rule never fail to get to New York, though they may fail to touch Boston, the same as every one going to England visits London, and going to France goes to Paris. The argument in favor of New York is made especially forcible in view of the alliance between the L. A. W. and the similar organization in England, France and Germany. There has been a rush of cyclists going to Europe this summer and most of them have sailed from New York. Reaching here they wanted to get their C. T. C. tickets, guide books, &c., but had had to send to Boston for them, ecause the League headquarters is there. and have what they wanted mailed to them. In consequence, it is said, many tourthem. In consequence, it is said, many four-ing cyclists have gone ahead, and instead of joining the League have joined the foreign organizations. Another trouble in the Revision Committee turns on the question of abolishing the State civisions and centralizing the whole organization in one executive body. This is not favore by the New Yorkers, who argue that it would kill local pride, enthusiasm and interest. The League cannot be incorporated until the Revision Committee completes its new constitution, and its work now seems to be hanging fire on the questions mentioned

The following notice was sent out yesterday from the office of the N. C. A. Board of Control, A. G. Batchelder, chairman:

"At Buffalo, Sept. 12 and 13, the national amateur championships will be contested on a quarter-mile cement track, the arrangements being in charge of the Ramblers Bicycle Club, one of the pioneer race promoting clubs of the country. The events will consist of a quarter, third half, mile, two and five-mile races, and the title of amateur championship will be decided by a system of point scoring, 5 points to a winner, 3 to a second rider, 2 to a third and 1 to a fourth. Besides the short distance events the middle distance paced championship may also be decided, no rider being eligible who has not won at least one race of this character.

The score in the Grand Circuit professional short distance championship is as follows:

"The League of American Wheelmen has another fight with the railroads to wage. Under the laws of New York. Massachusetts and Rhode Island the roads are compelled to carry bicycles as baggage, but they will not check wheels from one State to another. The railroads urge the Interstate Commerce law as their justification. The legal department of the League will assume direction of the case and fight it to the last court in the interest of wheelmen generally."

FITZ AT HARD WORK AGAIN. The Cornishman Pays Attention to His Wind and Does Road Work.

Bob Fitzeimmons has settled down to hard raining and is now exercising daily for his coming match with Tom Sharkey. The Cornishman's methods do not differ materially from those he put in force during his preparations for his mill with Gus Ruhlin. The greatest change is that he takes more interest in road work. Fitz's wind was not at its best when he met the "Akron Giant" and he realizes that any defect from this quarter will do him more harm than good. Bob did the bulk of his running for the Ruhlin fight in the morning He took a ten-mile spin after breakfast so as to get up a good sweat. Now he is going to split things up and run five miles in the morning and five after sundown. Fitz believes that the jog after supper will help him to digest his food and make him tired enough to enjoy a good night's rest.

The former champion went through an arduous course of labor yesterday, but did not indulge in any boxing. His left hand, which he injured on Ruhlin's head, bothered him somewhat. The trouble is located in the first knuckle and is the same wound which com pelled him to postpone his first engagement with Gus. Still Fits did not show any signs vesterday that he was very much handloapped for he punched the bag vigorously and was for he punched the bag vigorously and was as quick as chain lightning. His blows had the steam behind them and the pear-shaped bag resounded loudly against the drum of the apparatus under his thumps. Fitz says that he may not box at all while getting into condition for Sharkey, as he is afraid that he may but his hand to such an extent that a postponement of the fight may be necessary.

Sharkey is catting along nicely in his train-yesterday afternoon. The large boathouse ballon, which commands a view of the mile straightaway course, was crowded with suests. The leading feature of the regatta was a four-oared shell match race between fours from the Clifton Boat Club and the Staten Island Boat Club. There has been considerable rivalry between the oarsmen of the two clubs, and the cows have been in active training for some time. They were:

Staten Island B. C.—Louis La Farge, bow; Robert Cochrane, captain, 2; Victor Garrett, 5; Tromas Garrett, stroke. Clifton B. C.—Gorge S. Scofield, 4r, bow Fire King, 2; Michael Quigley. S. Douglass McDoural, stroke.

The race was a hard-fought one, but half way down the course the Clifton began to forge with a boat length of clear water lead. The other events were:

Two-Oard Shell Race—White crew—Reginald Brown, bow, and A. G. Whitelaw, stroke. Black crew—Stewart S. Taylor, bow and S. P. Heineken, stroke, Month of the mile stroke, Won by black crew by two lengths.
